

SPAN S242: Language, Culture, and Society of Spain

2 course credits (L5 and Hu)
Yale Summer Session 2019

Instructor: M. Pilar Asensio-Manrique (pilar.asensio@yale.edu)

Program Assistant: Sarah Glenski (sarah.glenski@yale.edu)

I. Course description: A five-week, intensive language course designed for students who previously have had at least two years of university-level Spanish or the equivalent. The goals of this program are to further students' understanding of Spanish culture and to provide them opportunities to develop their skills in each of the four linguistic competencies: listening, reading, speaking, and writing. Students will increase their knowledge of the language, history, and culture of Spain, within an immersion program. Taught entirely in Spanish.

This program explores historical and contemporary issues in Spanish culture. Set in Valencia, a city founded by the Romans 2000 years ago, it aims to reflect on both Spanish ancient heritage and modernity. By reading literary and non-literary texts students will become familiar with idiomatic Spanish, increase their vocabulary acquisition, and develop an appreciation of grammar and style. The course will emphasize active oral communication, the use of advanced-level vocabulary, and increased grammatical precision. Students will be required to review the major aspects of grammar independently. For this purpose, there will be assigned homework and online activities to overcome individual linguistic challenges. Guided visits, one-day excursions, and a weekend trip to Madrid and Toledo will complement the readings and will foster comprehension, discussion, and writing/composition on a wide range of topics such as the environment, the Mediterranean trade, politics, and religion.

II. Course objectives

1. Listening and reading comprehension
  - a. Develop strategies to increase comprehension.
  - b. Acquire appropriate idiomatic expressions and vocabulary.
  - c. Identify related words and guess at meaning of unfamiliar words.
  - d. Recognize main ideas, sections, and paragraphs.
  - e. Review grammatical structures.

2. Oral and written production

- a. Answer questions related to texts.
- b. Describe/paraphrase what has been seen, read, or heard.
- c. State reactions raised by readings, talks, or films.
- d. Improve fluency through vocabulary building, grammar review, and oral practice.
- e. Develop paragraph-length oral discourse.
- f. Express complex ideas in Spanish with grammatical accuracy.

3. Cultural engagement

- a. Live with a local host family.
- b. Experience each week's thematic content in real life activities.
- c. Interact with the art, culture, politics, and environment of Spain.
- d. Participate in guided visits and tours of different Spanish regions.
- e. Attend lectures about Spanish culture and society presented by local professors.
- f. Reflect on the fabric of Spanish society.

IV. Course Policies

A. Attendance: Regular attendance is crucial to the successful achievement of the course objectives. Departmental policy requires that students attend all classes and curricular activities over the course of the program. Additionally, three (3) late arrivals in excess of 15 minutes will count as one absence. Any student who accumulates more than one absence will have his/her final course grade lowered by one percentage point per each additional absence. If you accrue significant absences, your instructor may request cut restriction or that you withdraw from the course. There will be no MAKE-UP work.

B. Participation: Students are expected to prepare for and contribute to class discussion. Participation provides the opportunity to practice speaking, listening and understanding, and persuasive skills. You are encouraged to present, explain, and defend either your own views or views you think might engage your classmates. You are expected to use Spanish at all times. 15% of the course grade will be based on your contributions during class sessions as well as during guided visits, excursions, and any group activity.

Note on Plagiarism: No attempt to present another's work as one's own, including inappropriate use of online translation engines, will be tolerated. All cases of Academic Dishonesty will be referred to the Executive Committee of Yale College.
